

How to write a review about the work

Real feedback on the work provides an opportunity to understand what the Contractor should work on or provide understanding to other potential Customers of the Contractor's expertise in a particular field and it is desirable that the feedback on the work be disclosed by the following questions:

How did you find out about the services provided?

- How did you choose whom to work with, with whom did you compare, why did you make such a choice and what difficulties did you have when choosing other developers or web studio?
- What did you remember most from the process of interaction with the Contractor?
- What was the disappointment at work?
- What business result did you get?
- How much did the production process take?
- Are you satisfied with this business result, what has changed in your business as a whole after you started working with the selected Executor?
- Are you going to continue further cooperation, in what format and in what specific areas?
